Introduction

Everyone who has been studying Educational Psychology and Human Development at tertiary level was awarded the best knowledge of how our psyches guide us to be who and what we are in life ahead. What happens in each part of the life span is pointing at appreciating and enjoying each era.

The importance and purpose of this work is to awaken and focus young readers on the holistic development of the family for society and how Psychedelic and Educational Counselling impact improved living for the less fortunate mentally.

We all vote against violence and abuse within the home in every society. Yet little was ever done to eliminate these evils in the home environment until now when lasers, visuals, sounds and other chemicals are available for therapy.

I believe understanding the process of family and educational psychology is crucial to the elimination of violence and abuse in the world. Using a stanza I have called psychedelic and educational counselling for the disabled and those with psychiatric disorder, can eliminate the pressure on society these evils impact. The availability of much needed drugs have been helpful to a large extent to keep things under control. But the problem is mounting and so many people affected have been helped so far.

Each culture has been created by the same model and the family unit is the same everywhere.. Mum, dad and kids. Hopefully, I can encourage you to apply this Counselling idea to your circle of friends and ripple it for the benefit of our world. Let's learn together and help one another. For what maybe suitable for your culture or family, may also be profitable for another. No person is an island. We all rely on one another.

What do we mean by Counselling? It is a skill to try and assist someone with a problem or disability, be it mental, social, psychological, spiritual or physical. In this situation, the focus is on mild schizophrenia.. Not the violent degree ones, but those manageable around 35% disordered.

So psychedelic and educational counselling is a combination of occupational therapy and teaching and learning skills.
