

In a small New Zealand town called Waihi,
there lived a lady and a man and a little girl.
One day they decided to go on holiday in their house bus.
They stopped off in the nearby town called Paeroa to get supplies for their trip.

On their way back to the house-bus they noticed a small kitten, wriggling and meowing in the gutter. It sounded very distressed!

They tried to get close to the kitten.
It hissed and spat and scratched.

